11TH SEPTEMBER 2022
24TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME (C)

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

One day, a girl came upon a cocoon, and she could tell that a butterfly was trying to hatch. She waited and watched the butterfly struggle for hours to release itself from the tiny hole. All of a sudden, the butterfly stopped moving and seemed to be stuck.

The girl then decided to help get the butterfly out and used scissors to cut open the cocoon. The butterfly was then easily able to escape. However, its body was swollen and its wings were underdeveloped.

The girl still thought she had done the butterfly a favour as she sat there waiting for its wings to grow in order to support its body. But that did not happen. The butterfly was unable to fly, and for the rest of its life, it could only move by crawling around with little wings and a large body.

Despite the girl's good intentions, she didn't understand that the restriction of the butterfly's cocoon and the struggle the butterfly had to go through in order to escape served an important purpose.

As butterflies emerge from tight cocoons, it forces fluid from their body into their wings to prepare them to be able to fly.

This is like the struggles we face in life; they help us to grow and get stronger.

There is often a reason behind the requirement to work hard and be persistent. When enduring difficult times, we develop the necessary strength we will need in the future.

Without struggles, we won't grow.

MARRIAGE MATTERS

Driving together on the way to heaven

The readings contain a sense of hope. His forgiveness seems never ending and His mercy shows no limits. He never stops 'rescuing' us as the lost sheep of His flock, or 'finding' us, like the widow's mite, when we feel lost within our marriage. God's way of working is like a 'SATNAV', with the destination set as eternal life.

THINKING OF BECOMING A CATHOLIC?

A course of instruction is planned to begin in September. If you are interested, please contact Father Boyd.

WEEKLY WORDS FROM POPE FRANCIS

Dear brothers and sisters: In our continuing catechesis on discernment, the process of making sound decisions about the meaning and direction of our lives, we now consider the witness of Saint Ignatius of Loyola. As a young soldier, Ignatius was gravely wounded in battle. During his long convalescence, he was unable to read his favourite novels of chivalry and heroic exploits. The only books at hand were the lives of the saints. Reading them, at first reluctantly, Ignatius came to realise that the stories of the saints brought him lasting joy and happiness, while the other stories left him ultimately arid and empty. This insight was the origin of the method of prayer and discernment that Ignatius left us in his celebrated Spiritual Exercises. There he speaks of the importance of distinguishing between worldly and spiritual thoughts, cultivating the latter, and allowing them, by God's grace, to mature within our hearts. In time, then, we come to discern in prayer the often unexpected signs by which God makes himself known to us, leads us to conversion and shows us his will for our lives.

BACKGROUND ON THE GOSPEL READING

In chapter 15 of Luke's Gospel, Jesus tells three parables about losing, finding, and rejoicing. The outcasts of society, the taxpayers, and the sinners approach Jesus eager to hear what he has to say. In Luke's Gospel, hearing is a sign of conversion. The Pharisees and scribes, still suspicious of Jesus, complain about him associating with sinners. So he tells them these three parables.

In the first story, the parable of The Lost Sheep, the shepherd leaves behind the 99 sheep to search for the 1 lost sheep. When he finds it, the shepherd rejoices not alone as in Matthew's version, but with friends and neighbours. In the same way, God rejoices more over 1 sinner who repents—like the outcasts who have come to hear Jesus—than over the 99 righteous like the Pharisees and scribes.

The second story, about a poor woman who will not stop searching until she finds her lost coin, makes the same point. Why are the Pharisees complaining? They should rejoice when the lost are found.

Finally we come to what is probably the most memorable parable in the Gospels, the story we know as The Prodigal Son. Just as in The Lost Sheep and The Lost Coin, this story (found only in Luke) is really about the seeker. The loving father is at the centre of this parable. Even though his son runs off with his father's inheritance and squanders the money, the father waits for him, hoping for his return. Upon his son's return, the father, "full of compassion," runs out to embrace and forgive him before the son can utter one word of repentance. At this point the rejoicing begins.

The parable does not end there. Rather, it makes one more point about the older son's reaction. This son who never left, just like the Pharisees and scribes who feel they are righteous, refuses to enter his father's house to join in the rejoicing. He has served his father. He has obeyed him. Perhaps it was not out of love. The father's response teaches us that God's care and compassion extend to the righteous and sinner alike. When we are lost, God doesn't wait for our return. He actively seeks us out. And when the lost are found, how could we not celebrate and rejoice?

FINALLY ..... JUST FOR A LAUGH

In 2011, Pope Benedict made an emotional trip to his homeland of Germany. After his driver had put all the Pope's bags into the limo, he noticed that the Pope was still standing on the pavement.

"Pardon me, Your Holiness," he said, "would you please take your seat in the car so we can get to the Olympic Stadium in time?"

"Well," said the Pope, "they never let me drive at the Vatican so I'd really like to drive for old time's sake now I'm back in Germany."

"I'm sorry, Your Holiness, but I cannot let you do that. I'd lose my job!"

"But who's going to tell?" said the Pope with a smile.

Reluctantly, the driver got into the limo's rear seat as the Pope got behind the wheel. The driver quickly regretted his decision as the Pontiff floored it, accelerating to over 200 kms.

"Please slow down, Your Holiness!" pleaded the worried driver, but the Pope kept the pedal to the metal until they heard police sirens.

Duly the Pope pulled over and put the window down. The policeman approached the limo, took one look inside, and went back to his motorcycle radio.

"I need to talk to the chief," he told the dispatcher.

His chief came onto the radio and the cop told him that he had stopped a limo doing 200 kph.

"So bust him," said the chief.

"I don't think we really want to do that. He's really important," said the cop.

"All the more reason!" said his boss impatiently.

"No, I mean really important," answered the cop persistently.

The Chief then asked, "Why, who do you have there, the mayor?"

"Bigger," replied the cop.

"A politician?"

"Bigger."

"The Chancellor of Germany?"

"Bigger."

"Bigger? Who is it then?" said the chief.

The cop hesitated, "I think it's God..."

"What!" exclaims the chief. "What on earth makes you think it's God?"

"His chauffeur is the Pope!" the cop replied.
